

Health eFilings Provides Automated MIPS Reporting for Healthpac Clients

March 2, 2020

Savannah, GA and Madison, WI – Health eFilings, the national leader in quality data management and automated MIPS reporting, today announced a partnership with Healthpac, the leading provider of medical billing and practice management software. Health eFilings will now work directly with Healthpac clients to provide MIPS reporting services so that both a healthcare practice and the billing company will avoid significant financial penalties while protecting their bottom line.

CMS oversees the Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS), a payment track that focuses on quality, cost, interoperability, and provider-initiated improvements. The MIPS program rules change each year making it extremely challenging for a healthcare practice to understand all the nuances and requirements of how best to comply. Additionally, given the significant risk of a 9% penalty of a practice's annual Medicare billings, this program requires expertise in order to comply effectively. So, a healthcare practice will often turn to their billing company for advice and assistance on how best to manage their CMS obligations. With Health eFilings' compliance module powered by its ONC certified software, Healthpac customers can now offer their clients a complete solution to track and report, and thereby, optimize their Medicare reimbursements.

“We are proud to partner with Health eFilings, the national leader in quality data management and automated MIPS compliance. Their services drive improved patient outcomes, optimized quality measures and stronger financial results for healthcare practices,” said Buddy Claborn, CEO of Healthpac. “As the program rules change each year, the complexity increases, and the financial implications are even greater, healthcare practices are in need of an expert to support them with a solution to ensure they earn the most points in order to maximize their Medicare reimbursements. Our partnership with Health eFilings will assure that our clients have this required support.”

Health eFilings' MIPS reporting service seamlessly integrates with Healthpac and provides a complete turn-key, end to end solution that does not require any IT or administrative resources on behalf of a billing company or the healthcare practice. As a CEHRT (Certified EHR Technology), Health eFilings' cloud based, ONC certified software is significantly more efficient and effective than any registry as it fully automates the extraction, calculation, benchmarking, and electronic submission of MIPS data to CMS so Clinicians avoid significant penalties and earn maximum Medicare reimbursements. And, Health eFilings has a 100% success rate with CMS accepting electronic submissions on behalf of their clients.

“Our company is very excited to partner with Healthpac, a true leader and innovator in healthcare billing and PM services, to offer our fully automated service to support their clients and their customers with MIPS reporting,” said Robert Hopton, Health eFilings CEO. “Through our seamless integration, Healthpac's customers have access to the most effective method in MIPS compliance. And, because our service does not require any resources from the client, they can focus their time on their core business rather than trying to manage all the complexities of MIPS.”

About Health eFilings

Health eFilings is a Certified EHR Technology (CEHRT) and is committed to delivering innovative, cloud-based technology that ensures healthcare organizations successfully transition from a volume to value-based care model. The company's ONC certified software enables providers to effectively leverage data in the EHR or billing system to improve the quality of patient care and lower costs. With Health eFilings' end-to-end, enterprise solution, healthcare organizations can effectively manage and analyze data for population health management initiatives and easily comply with complex CMS programs, such as MIPS and CPC+ reporting. Health eFilings' proprietary software seamlessly integrates with any 2014 certified or higher EHR or billing system and is the only service that can integrate data across multiple platforms to create a single, comprehensive patient record. Since the software fully automates the process and does all the work with no IT resources, no administrative support and no workflow changes, providers have more time to focus on their patients.
